

DISABLED ACCESS AT THE ICA

Upper Gallery

There are 33 steps leading from the Canteen to the Upper Gallery. There is limited step free access to the Upper Gallery.

There is a small passenger lift, but it is not large enough to accommodate a person using most large motorised wheelchairs.* The individual would be required to transfer from their wheelchair into a chair placed in the lift, and our staff would transport the wheelchair separately. The passenger lift is not in a public area. Our staff will be happy to assist with this process but it will not be suitable for those who are unable to transfer from their wheelchair, or those using a motorised wheelchair.

There is a temporary ramp that can be erected at our private staff entrance at 12 Carlton House Terrace (there are otherwise six steps from street level to this entrance). Using this entrance provides step free access to the Upper Gallery.

Accessing this entrance can be achieved by exiting from the main entrance, travelling along The Mall to Trafalgar Square, Pall Mall, Waterloo Place and then Carlton House Terrace. Please ask on arrival if you would like to use this entrance and our staff will be happy to help you.

Nash + Brandon Rooms

From the Upper Gallery, there is a staircase leading to the Nash and Brandon Rooms. Where it is a suitable option, the small passenger lift also extends to the Nash + Brandon Rooms on the first floor. If you are attending an event in the Nash + Brandon Rooms and you have special access requirements, our staff will provide further information in advance.
